

Hi there,
just a quick reminder
because we care...

Hi there,
just a quick reminder
because we care...

Hi there,
just a quick reminder
because we care...

New Zealanders need to stop speeding.

Crashes involving speed account for 55% of fatalities for people aged 15-19 years old*

The consequences

- x The speed at which you are travelling directly affects the force of impact. The faster you go, the bigger the risk and consequences for you, your passengers and other road users.
- x You can be fined between $30 and $630 depending on how far over the speed limit you are travelling.
- x If you are stopped for speeding by a Police Officer you will also incur demerit points. If you incur 100 or more demerit points within any two year period your licence will be suspended for three months.

Do the right thing; drive at the correct speed limit!

- ✓ Drive within the speed limit – a few kilometres slower can make all the difference.
- ✓ Adjust your speed to the conditions or the road, for instance when cornering or travelling in congested traffic.

Save lives - Speak Up for Road Safety

For more information visit sadd.org.nz

*<https://www.transport.govt.nz/statistics-and-insights/safety-annual-statistics/sheet/speed#element-1040>

New Zealanders need to stop speeding.

Crashes involving speed account for 55% of fatalities for people aged 15-19 years old*

The consequences

- x The speed at which you are travelling directly affects the force of impact. The faster you go, the bigger the risk and consequences for you, your passengers and other road users.
- x You can be fined between $30 and $630 depending on how far over the speed limit you are travelling.
- x If you are stopped for speeding by a Police Officer you will also incur demerit points. If you incur 100 or more demerit points within any two year period your licence will be suspended for three months.

Do the right thing; drive at the correct speed limit!

- ✓ Drive within the speed limit – a few kilometres slower can make all the difference.
- ✓ Adjust your speed to the conditions or the road, for instance when cornering or travelling in congested traffic.

Save lives - Speak Up for Road Safety

For more information visit sadd.org.nz

*<https://www.transport.govt.nz/statistics-and-insights/safety-annual-statistics/sheet/speed#element-1040>

New Zealanders need to stop speeding.

Crashes involving speed account for 55% of fatalities for people aged 15-19 years old*

The consequences

- x The speed at which you are travelling directly affects the force of impact. The faster you go, the bigger the risk and consequences for you, your passengers and other road users.
- x You can be fined between $30 and $630 depending on how far over the speed limit you are travelling.
- x If you are stopped for speeding by a Police Officer you will also incur demerit points. If you incur 100 or more demerit points within any two year period your licence will be suspended for three months.

Do the right thing; drive at the correct speed limit!

- ✓ Drive within the speed limit – a few kilometres slower can make all the difference.
- ✓ Adjust your speed to the conditions or the road, for instance when cornering or travelling in congested traffic.

Save lives - Speak Up for Road Safety

For more information visit sadd.org.nz

*<https://www.transport.govt.nz/statistics-and-insights/safety-annual-statistics/sheet/speed#element-1040>